WHITWORTH COLLEGE

Campanile Call

MARCH—1961

Jim Quigley

Opportunity For Professional Service

DR. RONALD D. JONES, Chairman

A significantly large percentage of Whitworth College graduates enter the teaching profession. While job opportunities remain extremely high for the elementary school, many students choose teaching careers at the high school and college levels.

Those students planning to enter the teaching profession are, by design of the curricula, majoring in academic areas of their choice. They will have earned at least forty semester hours of credit in a major field and an additional sixteen hours in at least one other. Both major and minor subjects are chosen from among those commonly taught in the public school.

The goal of the college is to offer academic and professional opportunities to the student which will qualify him to enter the profession with an assurance of success as a teacher in his chosen field.

Significant aspects of teacher education at Whitworth include the following: (1) Academic major and minor requirements demand a respectable degree of concentration in the area the student chooses to teach. (2) Professional courses in education are minimum in number and are designed to offer teacher trainees knowledge, attitude, and skills which will help them direct, motivate and evaluate learning. Methods of teaching, understanding of the learner, and general demands of the profession are important to the program of training regardless of the student's major. (3) Excellent opportunities for student teaching are provided by cooperative arrangements with the Spokane city and county public schools. Well-qualified supervising teachers, interested administrators, and modern facilities and equipment combine to give the student most helpful initiating experiences in teaching. (4) The interest and participation of all departments of the college in teacher education are essential. Professional education requirements comprise but a small part of the prospective teacher's college study program. The National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education holds firmly to the belief that superior programs feature close cooperation of academic and professional personnel in the planning and carrying on of teacher education. (5) The Department of Education maintains a Teacher Placement Service for those meeting State certification requirements. Personal and professional data are collected and credentials are prepared and forwarded upon request to prospective employers. The Service schedules a series of interviews for candidates during the opening weeks of the spring semester. Representatives come from many school districts in Washington, Oregon, and California. Both faculty and students are pleased to know that so many of these school administrators actively seek to employ Whitworth graduates.

Mrs. Tiffany IN NEW YORK

By MISS MAE WHITTEN

Mrs. Estella Tiffany ("Stella" to many) is a good friend of Whitworth Graduates who are teaching, not only in Washington, but also in neighboring states, for she has frequently encouraged, sometimes scolded, and always "mothered" Whitworth cadets during their fledgling years in a new and challenging vocation. Not a few have returned for more specific helps or just to chat a while about their teaching jobs, and always are greeted with a smile and cheering words of encouragement.

When Mrs. Tiffany came to Whitworth in 1949, she was not a complete stranger to the college. Her husband, Frank Tiffany, was a Whitworth alumnus and later a chaplain in World War II when he was killed; so she was well acquainted with the ideals of the college and with many of the faculty and administration. Mrs. Tiffany received her A.B. degree in Education at Eastern Washington College of Education and her M.A. degree at the University of Washington.

Now she is in New York City attending Columbia University getting new ideas to share with her teacher-students. Letters received from her indicate her enthusiasm for her classes and instructors who, she says, have much to offer that can be used in her work here.

She plans to study this spring and perhaps early summer, but she will take time to visit in the East before returning to Whitworth next fall. Among her "hobbies" that she will miss while being in New York are her daughters, Leslie (a former Whitworth student) and her four grand-babies in Ashland, Oregon.

Miss Evans

NEW YORK, THEN EUROPE

Miss Ernestine Evans, Associate Professor of Secretarial Science, left with Mrs. Tiffany to study at New York University. She will be living at Biblical Seminary in New York City while attending the Graduate School of Business at N.Y.U.

Whitworth will miss her willing, faithful and cheerful personality around the campus. She has been an efficient chairman of many faculty committees and is always ready to help her students.

In June Miss Evans will leave New York harbor and sail across the Atlantic for a tour of Europe. She will return to the Whitworth campus next fall to resume her many duties.

The Whitworth College Choir, directed by Professor Milton Johnson, is preparing for its annual Spring tour. This year the itinerary includes most of Washington and the Portland area.

The choir, including 49 voices and Professor Thomas Tavenor as tenor soloist, will leave Easter Sunday afternoon and return fifteen days later after singing in 17 churches and at least a dozen schools. If the length of the tour were doubled it would still be inadequate to fill all the generous invitations extended to the choir. It is hoped that by publishing the itinerary that many groups necessarily omitted on the schedule will find it convenient to hear the choir at a nearby location.

The Whitworth College Band is also preparing for its annual Spring tour. The schedules include Northern Idaho and Western Montana. Some of the dates included in the itinerary are still tentative and subject to change. The 40-piece band is under the direction of Professor Samuel E. Davis, coming to Whitworth this year from Montana State University.

S.W.E.A. Represents

NEARLY 1000 STUDENTS

The Student Washington Education Association is composed of 19 chapters throughout the State, representing approximately 1000 students in education. The State organization strives:

To provide professional information for the teacher before he enters the classroom.
To acquaint the student with the activities and program of the State and National associations.

To give information concerning teaching positions that will enable the student to secure the position for which he is best suited.

To give each student a position in the professional organization they will be "graduating into," through associate activity and membership.

The State officers (four state-wide and two regional) comprise the student executive board. It is their responsibility to direct the State program, in conjunction with the WEA. In addition, the president is the State's delegate to the Student National Education Association Council of Presidents and is a student delegate at the TEPS Summer Conference, and the NEA convention. The president also represents members of the SWEA on the WEA committee for Teacher Selection and Recruitment.

The State president of the SWEA is Ted Clark, Whitworth senior. The president last year was also from Whitworth, enabling the college to claim the title as "the only school to sponsor two successive State SWEA presidents."

Other board members are Barbara Aust, Pacific Lutheran University; Lee Watkins, Yakima Valley Junior College; Ora Rae Ottmar, Seattle Pacific College; Carolyn Reid, Whitman; and Don Ceccarelli, Seattle University.

Cromer Joins Board

WEIR RESIGNS AS ALUMNI ASS'N VEEP

A change in the composition of the Alumni Executive Board has been necessitated by the departure of Tonna Wendleburg Weir, '57, from Spokane. Recently her husband Jim, '57, was transferred by his employer to Yakima. This change compelled Tonna to resign from her position as vice-president of the Alumni Association as well as withdraw from her position as a member of the Executive Board.

Tonna became active in Alumni work almost immediately upon graduation. She was selected by the class of 1957 to be its representative to the Alumni Association during the 1957-58 academic year. Her interest in her assignment and outstanding performance during this one year term, commended her for nomination to the Board. She was elected in June 1957 to serve a three year term. During this time, she has been chosen twice to act as secretary of the Association. This past June the members of the Board elected her to the position of vice-president.

Walt Spangenberg, '56, president of the Alumni Association, has said, "I have served almost 4 years on the Alumni Board with Tonna and am well aware of what her interest and efforts have meant to both the Alumni Association and to Whitworth. We shall miss her from her position of leadership with the Executive Board, but are confident that Whitworth will continue to be one of her main interests."

Peggy Cromer, '47, has been chosen to fill the existing vacancy on the Alumni Board. Last spring, Peggy was nominated to fill a one year term. Her appointment at this time is to serve until June when the normal three year term expires.

During her student days, Peggy was prominent in many extra-curricular activities. She was undoubtedly best remembered for her innate artistic ability. Since graduation, she has remained in Spokane, working in various capacities related to her artistic talent. At the present time she is Art Director and Production Manager for a leading Spokane advertising agency.

Noteworthy Alumni GROSE, IWAMOTO SHARE SPOTLIGHT

Two Alumni, one on the Atlantic Coast, the other on the Pacific, have recently gained new found prominence in their chosen fields.

Vernon Grose, '50, joined the staff of Litton Systems, Inc., Beverly Hills, Calif., about a year ago. Recently he was appointed a member of the Executive Staff in recognition of his key role in the operation of the company. Through his individual efforts he has become recognized as a principal contributor to his company's success.

His present assignment is Director of Reliability for the Guidance and Control Systems Division of the company. His staff consists of more than 40 engineers and scientists engaged in design and evaluation of inertial guidance systems for aircraft, missiles, and spacecraft. Vern, prior to his association with Litton, was a research engineer with Boeing Airplane Company, Seattle.

Technical papers authored by Grose have appeared in recent issues of "Missile Design and Development" and "Journal of Environmental Sciences."

Ranko Iwamoto, '60, is currently attending Boston University in her quest for a Master of Science degree in journalism. At the present time she is writing a book dealing with her experiences since her departure from Japan in 1956, when she first enrolled at Whitworth.

Recently, Ranko was interviewed concerning some of her impressions on American life and comparing it with similar aspects of living in Japan. Her comments were noted by the United Press and gained wide dissemination. Newspaper clippings relating to this one interview have been received in the Alumni office from a collection of American papers as well as the China Post, which is published in Taiwan (Formosa).

Production Cancelled DRAMALUMS UNABLE TO PRESENT "RAINMAKER"

The DramAlum presentation scheduled for April 13 and 14 stagings as announced in the last issue of the Campanile Call has been cancelled. This move became necessary when some of the key personnel lined up for this production were unable to arrange their personal schedules to permit them to devote the necessary time for practice and presentation.

Warren Visits COLORADOANS MEET; COLVIN CHOSEN

Fourteen Colorado Alumni gathered in Denver at the home of Dr. George, '50, and Dorothy Smyth McLaren, '49, on Saturday evening, January 14. Those present chose Kay Colvin, '55, to be chairman of their group and to be in charge of plans for future Alumni gatherings in the area.

President and Mrs. Warren joined this group in fellowship and, as usual, provided nostalgic memories of the "College Among the Pines." In addition to telling of prior accomplishments, Dr. Warren pointed to the future and revealed some of his aspirations for the College in the challenging years ahead.

Warren's visit in Denver was occasioned by the annual meeting of the American Association of Colleges and Universities. The Denver sojourn was the conclusion of a month long combination vacation-business trip which covered the states of California, Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado.

The Whitworth College Choir, directed by Professor Milton Johnson, is preparing for its annual Spring tour. This year the itinerary includes most of Washington and the Portland area.

The choir, including 49 voices and Professor Thomas Tavener as tenor soloist, will leave Easter Sunday afternoon and return fifteen days later after singing in 17 churches and at least a dozen schools. If the length of the tour were doubled it would still be inadequate to fill all the generous invitations extended to the choir. It is hoped that by publishing the itinerary that many groups necessarily omitted on the schedule will find it convenient to hear the choir at a nearby location.

The Whitworth College Band is also preparing for its annual Spring tour. The schedules include Northern Idaho and Western Montana. Some of the dates included in the itinerary are still tentative and subject to change. The 40-piece band is under the direction of Professor Samuel E. Davis, coming to Whitworth this year from Montana State University.

S.W.E.A. Represents NEARLY 1000 STUDENTS

The Student Washington Education Association is composed of 19 chapters throughout the State, representing approximately 1000 students in education. The State organization strives:

- To provide professional information for the teacher before he enters the classroom.
- To acquaint the student with the activities and program of the State and National associations.
- To give information concerning teaching positions that will enable the student to secure the position for which he is best suited.
- To give each student a position in the professional organization they will be "graduating into," through associate activity and membership.

The State officers (four state-wide and two regional) comprise the student executive board. It is their responsibility to direct the State program, in conjunction with the WEA. In addition, the president is the State's delegate to the Student National Education Association Council of Presidents and is a student delegate at the TEPS Summer Conference, and the NEA convention. The president also represents members of the SWEA on the WEA committee for Teacher Selection and Recruitment.

The State president of the SWEA is Ted Clark, Whitworth senior. The president last year was also from Whitworth, enabling the college to claim the title as "the only school to sponsor two successive State SWEA presidents."

Other board members are Barbara Aust, Pacific Lutheran University; Lee Watkins, Yakima Valley Junior College; Ora Rae Ottmar, Seattle Pacific College; Carolyn Reid, Whitman; and Don Ceccarelli, Seattle University.

U.S. PUBLIC HEALTH DEPT. GRANTS GRAY $1,516

Mrs. Alfred O. Gray of the Biology Department is another of the Whitworth faculty to be honored with a research grant. The U.S. Public Health Service has given her $1,516 for her work on "The Effects of Gibberellins on Chlorella."

Gibberellin is a plant growth-regulating substance which is being used commercially to make crops and nursery stock grow faster and taller, and Chlorella is a one-celled microscopic green alga which is very efficient in storing up the sun's energy for making protein and fat.

Mrs. Gray suggested possible outcomes of her research. "The yield of Chlorella grown commercially for food might be stepped up measurably by shortening the growth cycle. With increasing world population and food shortages, this could be significant.

"Chlorella is the organism being experimented with for use in spaceships as a continuous source of food and oxygen. Gibberellins might possibly increase the efficiency of this process."

RAMA RAO ADDED TO SCIENCE STAFF

The Whitworth science faculty is joined this year by K. Rama Mohan Rao, visiting professor from India.

Rao is on an exchange scholarship given by the U.S. Office of Education and will hold the position of visiting assistant professor of electrical engineering while at Whitworth.

He includes in his credentials a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering from the University of Madras and a master's in nuclear engineering from the University of Florida.

Rao has been involved in two research projects concerning the scattering of gamma-rays and nuclear properties of rhenium. He holds membership in Sigma Xi.

SCIENCE BUILDING TO BE ADDED TO CAMPUS SCENE

Preliminary plans have been completed for a new Science Building for Whitworth. The structure is expected to cost $850,000 not including equipment.

The new building will feature video taped instruction in all laboratories and lecture rooms. This new feature will supplement present teaching facilities.

ED OLSON RECEIVES $41,900 GRANT

Professor Edwin Olson of the Geology and Chemistry Departments has been named to direct installation and research for the radiocarbon dating equipment which will be operating on the Whitworth campus within the next two years.

The equipment, its installation, and subsequent research are all made possible by a $41,900 grant from the National Science Foundation in Washington, D.C.

In the three-year period specified in the grant, Dr. Olson will make about 150 measurements of annual growth ring samples from a large number of recently cut out trees.

Purpose of the project is to define the geographic and temporal uniformity of the atmosphere's radioactivity. From this, a limit is set on the maximum accuracy with which radiocarbon dates can be determined.

Dr. Olson has done similar work at Columbia University in New York.

The radiocarbon dating method was discovered in the late 1940's by Dr. Willard Libby, former Atomic Energy Commissioner, and has become widely applied in geology and archaeology. With it, the age of carbon-bearing materials, such as wood and charcoal, can be ascertained within several hundred years provided their age is less than 40,000 years.

Whitworth's radiocarbon laboratory is one of about 25 in operation in the U.S.

There will be a large lecture hall seating 350 students. Well-furnished laboratories are planned for chemistry, biology and physics. Two seminar rooms for science demonstrations are also included in the plans.

The building will have carefully planned classrooms available for the mathematics department.

The Department of Development, headed by Edward V. Wright, Vice-President, is at present busy contacting foundations for support in the construction of the building.

Plans are also underway to solicit the support of business firms and corporations. In the Alumni Office materials are being prepared to present the Science Building project to all graduates especially those who were science majors.

Contributions for the Science Building should be sent to the college in care of "Science Building."

ACHIEVEMENT IN CHEMISTRY

The Whitworth Chemistry Department has kept pace with modern-day science with three research projects underway this year.

Dr. Hugh Johnston is working on two studies, "The Reactions of Phenols with Acrylonitrile," supported by the Petroleum Research Fund, and "Acquisition of Equipment for Use in Nuclear Science Programs," supported by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Students of the department are also receiving recognition. Andrew Tsoi, senior honor student, is the author of the article "The Hydrogen-Fluoride Catalyzed Reaction Between Phenol and Nitriles" soon to be published in Northwest Science.

NORTHERN-CAL ALUMS TO HEAR YATES

Whitworth Alumni in Northern California will enter into the spirit of Homecoming with their banquet in the Bay Area on October 28, the evening of the on-campus dinner.

The Northern Californians have also chosen "Mardi Gras" as their theme and decorations will follow the same motif.

Lawrence E. Yates, associate professor of Greek and Philosophy at Whitworth, has been selected to speak.

Yates came to Whitworth in 1948 and took a sabbatical leave in 1958-59 when he studied toward his Th.D. at Princeton Theological Seminary. He has also studied at McGill University, the University of Toronto and the Montreal Presbyterian College.

Mrs. Ray (Sandra Gillis) Moser, '59, is in charge of arrangements and decorations. Don Wilson, '51, and his wife Eunice, '52, are planning the entertainment and designing the programs.

The area president and his officers and committees have been working diligently the past few months in a determined effort to make this the largest and most successful event in the history of the Northern California club.

'61 GRAD TO HAVE RESEARCH PUBLISHED

The domestic sciences at Whitworth also produce superior students for Mrs. Ron (Patricia Mohler) Purdin will have an article published in the Journal of Home Economics, official publication of the American Home Economics Association.

The article is based on a study done by Mrs. Purdin and Mary Boppell as part of the college honors program and is expected to appear in the June, 1962, issue. Mrs. Purdin's report summarizes the findings of her survey of home management house in 73 colleges throughout the nation.

Mrs. Purdin was graduated magna cum laude from Whitworth in June 1960, with a Home Economics major. This year she is teaching in the Whitworth Elementary school.

During her senior year she was president of the College Clubs of Washington Home Economics Association and of Pirettes, women's service organization. Her other activities included the offices of vice president of Alpha Beta, secretary of Pirettes, and cabinet member and senior counselor for Ballard Hall.

Registration Daze

ENROLLMENT OVER 1000

The fall semester enrollment at Whitworth is up 6 per cent over last year with the student body numbering 1005 and expected to reach or top 1025 with late registrations.

Night school also shows an increase from 440 to 602. Here the final total may top 625.

The student body again reflects the school's cosmopolitan atmosphere and includes both students from foreign countries and those who have lived and studied outside of the United States.

PUBLIC RELATIONS POSITION FILLED

Virgil Griep of Spokane has been named to head the Public Relations Department at Whitworth. He is also youth director at Whitworth Community Presbyterian Church in addition to serving as chairman of the Spokane Presbytery junior high youth work committee.

Duties of the post include editing the Campanile Call, coordinating campus events, and keeping the public aware of Whitworth's successes and achievements.

The new director's wife was an assistant in psychology and student personnel services at Whitworth before taking her present position as a third grade teacher at Linwood Elementary School.

At Seattle Pacific Griep majored in Greek and history. He was student body vice-president and active in campus music and dramatic affairs.

He was elected to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," and participated in the varsity male quartet and the a cappella choir.

ERWAY TAKES NEW POST

Milton Erway has left his position as Director of Public Relations for Whitworth to become its Director of Admissions. His new post includes presenting Whitworth College to high school students, directing admissions and helping with student personnel.

ALUMNI SCHOLARSHIP TO HYUNG JIN KIM

The 1961-62 Alumni Scholarship has been awarded to Hyung Jin (Jimmie) Kim from South Korea.

Kim was graduated from high school in Taegu, South Korea, and won high honors while studying there. He speaks faultless English.

In accepting the scholarship which includes full tuition the first year and half each succeeding year, Kim said, "The people of the Free World owe, it is true, a great deal to the American people in many ways, but it might be also true that there are quite a number of people in other countries who still do not understand the real American hearts. Even though they have received U.S. foreign aid and other assistance for years, they don't realize that Americans wish for their freedom and welfare.

"If such beautiful hearts are not understood because these people are still misinformed of the Americans through propaganda, or ignorance, those aids can't help them and are just a waste.

"I believe that the programs of the American studies initiated at Whitworth are not only necessary to understand and appreciate the American past but also help in giving the correct answers and information to the people of the world for a better understanding of the American freedom and democracy."

"DON'T BE A REBEL"

By the time you read this, you will already have received a letter from the Whitworth College Alumni Association asking you to continue with your support.

The letter warns, "Don't Be a Rebel," and says, "You are on the winning side when you give to your College Alumni Association."

Big things are happening on campus, many of them because of alumni support. The alumni are proud of the gains that have been made and are ready to tackle more as they kick-off the 1961-62 fund drive.

The Executive Board of the Alumni Association will send further information with the next letter to be posted soon.

In New Orleans each Krewe also sponsors a parade and chooses a king from among its members and a queen from among the debutantes of the season. The Krewes are named for various mythological characters.

The dorms and floats in the Homecoming Parade will be decorated using green, gold and purple, the colors of Mardi Gras.

Bucs Capture Conference Crown

With the regular season wrapped up, Whitworth cagers were looking forward to the Evergreen Conference basketball play-offs on publication date after wrapping up their first hoop championship since 1955.

Opening the league schedule with four straight wins, the Pirates held first place all season falling no lower than a tie for that position. Eastern Washington college fell twice to Whitworth in that stretch while Central Washington and the University of Puget Sound each dropped a tilt.

A rematch with Central handed the Pirates their first league loss, 56-53, at Ellensburg. After that, a stretch of five games saw Whitworth go 3-2 in the won-loss columns.

In the final four games of the regular season, the Pirates won four and lost none to post an 11-3 conference record and earn a berth in the play-offs February 24-25.

Big guns for the Bucs this season were sophomore Ed Hagen who led the team scoring, senior captain Dave Morley, senior Jay Jackson, sophomores Gary McGlocklin and Steve Grover and freshman Clayton Anderson as well as seniors Dean McGuire and Bob Quall who came off the bench several times to inspire come-from-behind wins.

The Development Story

EDWARD V. WRIGHT, Director

Several years ago an elderly woman went to the trust officer in her bank and said, "I want to make a will and settle plans for my estate." The trust officer who was a friend of another college in Washington helped her to consider the needs of higher education. As a result she left $600,000 in her will to that college.

Wills and estates are an important part of our income at Whitworth. Many thousands of dollars come to us in this manner, but we wonder just what we could do here if all of our friends remembered us in their wills, or encouraged others to remember the college in this manner. Why not consider Whitworth and discuss it with your attorney.

Another area of income for the college is in granting annuities to retired people. An annuity is an investment that yields a liberal rate of interest to the person making the annuity. This is a good way to be assured of an income and provide for the college at the same time.

If you are interested in wills or annuities, write the Department of Development.

Whitworth Auxiliary

Since the last issue of "The Call" the Auxiliary has added two new Chapter Presidents to its roster which recalls to mind something that Mrs. David Jones said sometime ago. Mrs. Jones was the first president of the Seattle Chapter and at the time of her election she said how wonderful it would be when we reached the stage of growth to have several chapters over the State and then to have a meeting on Campus of all the presidents. The Tacoma Chapter met January 14th for a dessert and elected Mrs. John D. Powell as president; Mrs. Clifford McNeal, vice-president; Mrs. Alex Antes, secretary-treasurer. January 31st the Waterville Chapter elected Mrs. Oliver Nelson, president; Mrs. Ward Nelson, first vice-president; Mrs. Glen Ludeman, second vice-president; Mrs. Wm. Brooks, third vice-president; Mrs. Rufus Marney, secretary-treasurer.

Also since last report we have heard the results of the Christmas Bazaar and Hobby Sale sponsored by the Spokane Seattle Chapters. When the report was made in Spokane we lacked 24c of clearing $1000 and Mrs. Ernest Baldwin, one of our most enthusiastic workers and also the wife of a College Trustee, promptly produced the 24c! The last of January Mrs. Fred Neale, Seattle treasurer, on a visit to the Campus brought a check for $700, proceeds from their sale. This money is already being used in the Student Lounge furnishings for the purchase of a piano, 6 lamps and 3 rugs, plus the reupholstering of quite a number of davenport.

Spring dates on the Auxiliary calendars are:

SPOKANE:

February 23rd: Women's Association Knox Presbyterian Church. March 2nd: Women's Association Millwood Church. March 20th: Style Show at the College, presented by the College Home Economics Department.
